Skylight is offering a hands-on training session on ways to use this innovative game in a variety of settings. We will explore various interpersonal dynamics that may arise when the game is played, and ways to help young people through difficult, sensitive situations.

At the end of this workshop, participants will have played the game and developed facilitation skills that will assist children and young people to gain the most from Getting Stronger.

Facilitator: Gae Neill (LLB, ATCL)

Gae Neill is a passionate supporter of young people’s personal development and resilience through tough times. She has been a long-time member of Skylight’s Training Faculty, presenting workshops on change, loss, grief and resilience, and is a member of Skylight’s advisory board for the Travellers programme, which supports young people to navigate difficult life challenges.
